Blade

The diagram shows a cross-section of a blade with a central circular feature. A curved line, colored red, green, and blue, passes through the center of the blade, likely representing a flow path or a structural element. The blade is outlined in black, and the internal features are shown in gray.
